

Condition of Entry into the Wings Competition and Exhibition

All due caution will be exercised by the Australian National Aviation Museum in the handling of models, however the Museum is not liable for any damage to or loss of any model or related item during the Wings Competition.

Unless agreed to otherwise by the Museum, all entrants are required to have the entered model on display till the completion of the Award Ceremony.

As the models are for the week end of the Wings event, part of the Museum's Exhibition, it is a requirement of the Museum that a short 25 line history of the subject that the model represents, be presented with the model on display.

As standard with other competitions, the judge's decision is final. Unless an obvious bias against the entrant can be identified, no recourse will be taken by the Museum to change the decision of the judges.

The Australian National Aviation Museum retains the right to use photographs of any of the models entered into Wings for the promotion of the Wings competition.
